A SAFEGUARD.

The fatal rapidity with which slight Colds and Coughs frequently develop into the gravest mala-dies of the throat and lungs is a consideration which should impel every prudent person to keep at hand as a household remedy a bottle of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

Nothing else gives such immediate relief and rorks so sure a cure in all affections of this class That eminent physician, Professor F. Sweetzer, of the Maine Medical School, Brunswick, Mc., says "Medical science has produced no other anodyne expectorant so good as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is invaluable for diseases of the throat and lungs."

The same opinion Is expressed by the wellknown Dr. L. J. Addison, of Chicago, Ill., wh

"I have never found, in thirty-five years of continuou study and practice of medicine, any pre-paration of so great value as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL for treatment of discusses of the throat and lungs. It not only breaks up colds and cures severe coughs, but is more effective than anything else in relieving even the most seri us Bronchial and Pulmonary affections."

third generation, who have come into being since it was first offered to the public.

There is not a household in which this invaluable remedy has once been introduced where its use has ever been abandoned, and there is not a person who has ever given it a proportial for any throat or lung disease susceptible of cure, who has not been made well by it.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has, in numberless instances, enred obstitute cases of chronic Bronchitis, Larnygitis, and even acute Pneumodia, and has saved many patients in the earlier stages of Pulmonary Consumption. It is a medicine that only requires to be taken in small doses, is pleasant to the taste, and is needed in every house where there are children, as there is nothing so good as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL for treatment of Group and Whooping Couph.

COUPON CASES. TWO DECIDED YESTERDAY.

Judge Bond Renders Opinions in Two Cases Brought by Mr. Royall - One For, One Against the State.

Judge Bond, of the United States Court. vesterday rendered a decision in the P. T.

Moore habeas-corpus case.

Moore petitioned for a writ of habeas corpus on the ground that he was illegally held in custody. He set forth that he, destring a drummer's license, offered to the Color Transport 75% in each string a drummer's license, offered to the Color Transport 75% in each string a drummer's license, offered to the Color Transport 75% in each string a drummer's license, offered to the Color Transport 75% in each string a drummer's license, offered to the color of t City Treasurer $75 in coupons in payment of same; that his offer was refused, and thereupon he proceeded to sell, and was supply of ticke's for arrested and confined in jail; that such previously supplied. confinement was illegal, because, as maintained, the ilcense-fee is a tax, therefore his tender of coupons was a legal tender.

Judge Bond, in delivering his opinion,

It appears from the petition filed in this case that P. T. Moore, the petitioner, ap-plied for a license to sell goods by sample in Virginia. The law of Virginia required all persons acting as sample-brokers to take AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL out a license therefor, and to pay a specific ing their time and influence to the movesum for the privilege into the treasury of the state, in gold and silver or in the curthere successfully, who have come into being since the state, in gold and silver or in the currenew of the United States. Another statute of Virginia made the coupons of certain bonds of the State receivable for all taxes, laims, and demands due the State. The petitioner tendered such coupons in ieu of gold, silver, or United States currency bills, and he was refused a license. Thereupon he proceeded to sell goods without a license. He was arrested thereupon by a proper warrant, under a statute of Virginia forbidding the sale of goods by will report at the next meeting of the Sosample without license, and was committed to fail upon a proper mittimus, and now asks to be released from his confinement there by this proceeding. He alleges that he is illegally confined because of his ten-der of the coupons, upon which tender it the work. was the duty of the State officers to grant

It is not necessary to determine whether or not the charge made by the State for a license was a tax or a demand which was payable by the petitioner in the coupons bove referred to; for upon the refusal of the State officers to receive them it gave the petitioner no right to proceed to vio-late the law of the State forbidding the sale of goods by sample without a license. Be-cause the State officers violated one law use the State officers violated one law o'clock at the same place, when the reports e petitioner was not given the right to violate another.

The warrant upon which he was arrested and the mittimus under which he is held in custody are in due form of law. It was the duty of the petitioner when refused a license illegally to bring an action against the officers refusing it. No diffi-culty of obtaining a license or illegal action on the part of the officers of the State justi-fied the petitioner in violating the criminal law of the State. As the proceeding on the part of the law officer of the State in causing the arrest and commitment of the petitioner was in due form of law, the petition for habeas corpus will be dismissed and the party remanded to the custody of the coupons for his taxes. The Treasurer refused to receive them, and levied on Smith's property. Smith sued the Treasurer for a trespass in the Circuit Court of the city of Richmond, and removed the case for trial into the Circuit Court of the United States. The Treasurer pleaded as his description of the Virginia Legislasses, a knightly regard for the feelings and optimizes of others, and a reject some courtest, and optimizes of others, and a reject some courtest, and optimizes of others, and a reject some courtest was repliced. ture forbade him to receive the coupons, and that another act commanded him to levy, notwithstanding the tender. Smith demurred to that plea, and Judze Bond made the following order resistant. made the following order yesterday:

"The Court is of opinion that the de-fendant was a trespasser in levying on and selzing the plaintiff's property after the plaintiff had tendered to him the coupons described in the plaintiff's replication in payment of his taxes, and that the act of General Assembly of the State of Virginia, approved January 26, 1882, and the act of the General Assembly of said generous, and true. State which commands the defendant to levy on the plaintiff's property after said tender of coupons, both of which acts are referred to by the defendant in his rejoinder, are unconstituted in the said safers are they command to the same of the sa utional and void, so far as they command the defendant to refuse said coupons, and so far as they commanded the defendant to levy on and seize plaintiff's property after said tender of coupons, and there-fore constitute no defence to the defendant for his said trespass. It is therefore considered by the Court that the plaintiff's de-murrer to the defendant's rejoinder be sustained, and that a jury inquire of and assess the plaintiff's damages." The Attorney-General will appeal at the

The damages here are laid at $6,000. The value of the property seized was about $100. When Mr. Royall demands a jury to sess Smith's damages, the Attorney-Genral says he will ask the Court to instruct the jury that if they find the damages to be of less than $500, then they must find for the defendant. The Attorney-General considers it such a case as gives him, if needed, the right to appeal on behalf of the State. He has no doubt that that is the office, and want to be elected MAYOR OF THE CITY.

TO THE PEOPLE.—I NEED THE

Therefore, on the urgent call of necessity and my own desire, I ask the voices to nominate me at the primary election, May 1st, 1884, to which I submit my claims. I am deeply grateful for past somfidence and support, and hope I am not unworthy of its continuance. If I have proved incompetent or unfaithful, mr me out; if on the contrary, I appeal to the conscience and judgment of every man to do to me as he would have me to do to him to like circumstances. Above all, I appeal to every qualified voter to cast his ballot, that the real voice of the people, and not of mere factions and rings,
may be heard.
